

Criticism of Kindergarten in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A University of Arkansas faculty member said Tuesday that Arkansas is almost ridiculously unprepared for public school kindergartens.

Dr. Arthur E. Howard, 38, said this condition exists even though Arkansas will probably vote this year to permit public school kindergartens.

He made the remark in an interview and a speech at an area conference of elementary principals here.

Howard criticized the state for not having a program for training kindergarten teachers. He also was critical of the concept he said Arkansas educators generally hold about early childhood education. These views, he said, are also held by education faculty members at the university.

He said he planned to resign from the university's College of Education faculty because of what he called "the sluggish development of the educational program at the university level" and the "domination of the 'momist' group" at the university.

"Many public school educators have been disgusted by the overprotective momist educators who have held that children were fragile little creatures whose delicate young psyches would be warped by any imposition of formal learning in early years," Howard said.

Money Still Talks More Than Ever

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Money still talks but up in the executive suites other things sometimes are more persuasive.

Such things as more interesting work, less cut-throat competition among fellow executives, freedom from overemphasis on memo writing, may mean more to a key man than an offer of higher pay if he is thinking of changing jobs.

In an affluent society, with more big-salaried posts around than men with ability or reputation to command them, a lot of companies are reporting trouble these days in recruiting top or middle-level officials.

Today, executive recruiters say, a prospect may turn down a job offering $25,000 more a year if he feels the other company would be less congenial to his tastes, the other industry less fitted to his talents, or even another location less suited for his hobbies.

The typical executive today is well-paid. He probably can furnish most of the things his family craves. Profit sharing, retirement and other benefits ease his present and future state. More money weighs less in his mind today than yesteryear when good jobs were hard to find.

One big company is having trouble getting new men because of its reputation for organizational zeal. "It's report-nappy," one man said in turning down an offer, "and I'd rather be judged on performance than on my literary skill."

executive recruiters, reports one key vice president recently turned down a $100,000-a-year post to stay on his present $75,000 job. His reason: he had doubts about the other firm's image.

Still another stuck to his $28,000 post rather than take $40,000 from a larger company. His reason: his firm promoted him to executive vice president (with no pay boost) and he could be a general executive there rather than a production specialist with the larger one.

One of the biggest companies in its field is having trouble getting men, the recruiters say, because of its reputation of being overloaded with "young tigers" fiercely competing with each other. One executive who declined an offer said, "Why should I get into that rat race when I can make almost as much here and not get an ulcer?"

Question Was Not Expected

NEW YORK (AP)—It wasn't the kind of question one would expect from a high school journalist.

Mayor John V. Lindsay had asked the city's high school editors to gather at a news conference Monday and give their views on how the school dropout problem might be curbed.

Louise E. Katzman, 16, one of 150 student journalists asked, "Mr. Lindsay, why don't you permit your own children to attend public schools instead of private schools?"

Before the mayor could answer, schools superintendent Bernard E. Donovan replied: "We say pupils should stay in school wherever they are. It doesn't have to be any particular school."

All four of the mayor's children are enrolled in private schools.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (DAP) — The view from Lana Turner's office looks down upon her old playground, the Sunset Strip. But Lana, as she pads about the thick-carpeted executive suite she shares with her sixth husband and business partner, Robert Eaton, seems disinclined to play. Asked why she needs an office, she replies, "To make money; we hope to make a lot of it."

Lana Turner, businesswoman, is a role I never expected to see her play. But she demonstrated her skill as a salesgirl in a recent tour she made on behalf of "Madame X," which is expected to help supply the wherewithal for the Eaton-Turner enterprises in films, plays and other fields.

"The tour was exhausting but stimulating, and it taught me a great deal about the movie business," Lana reported. "I covered seven cities, and I was on the go from morning to night."

"I learned so much about how people feel about films. I found out they're fed up with the sick, sick pictures that have been coming out of Hollywood. They want escape, and we haven't been giving it to them."

Lana faced all kinds of interviews, from teen-age panels to electronic inquisitors. There were a few zings, but she has learned to blunt the pointed questions with a soft answer.

What did the interviewer want to know?

"I usually got the same old question of whether I was discovered at Schwab's drugstore," she sighed. "Schwab's has been living off the publicity for years."

"I had to explain that it wasn't Schwab's; it wasn't even a drugstore. It was a malt shop opposite Hollywood High School, and the story was true."

I had some questions of my own. Did she have a fight with producer Ross Hunter on "Madame X"?

"Yes, we did have a misunderstanding, and he didn't talk to me for eight days. But we're the best of friends now."

Did she feud with the late Constance Bennett?

"No. I was as friendly with Miss Bennett as she would allow anyone to be. The company did have some problems with her because she didn't want to age in the film."

As you can see, Lana can still handle the zings.

New 5-Year Plan for Russians

By FRED COLEMAN
MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin today outlined a five-year economic plan based on peace abroad to concentrate on economic growth at home.

He issued a veiled appeal to the United States to cooperate in cutting the arms race and petition. He also assailed for mer Premier Nikita Khrushchev for setting "economically unjustifiable targets" in the previous plan.

"Any initiative genuinely aimed at the preservation and strengthening of peace will meet a positive response and support on our part," Kosygin said.

"A new world war can be and must be prevented," he told 6,000 Soviet and foreign Communist delegates to the 23rd congress of the Soviet Communist party in the Kremlin.

Kosygin said the international situation has a key influence on plans for Soviet economic growth.

HELEN HELP US!

— by Helen Bottel —

Key To Innocence
Dear Helen: I'm a good combination: sweet, pure, innocent, and I know all the answers, or at least I know all the questions so I can field the answers. So I thought!

Have never come close to being untrue to my husband but I sometimes wonder how it would be. All good little girls wonder that, though some are not honest enough to admit it, right, Helen? (—Right! —H.)

Well, I'm still S. P. I., but if my husband finds out about The Key he may not believe me, and it's too late to joke about it now — He'd think I was lying through fear of being found out.

I went to a PTA convention — you see, that's how pure I am. I got there a day early to do some shopping, and that night at the hotel I sat at a table with a fascinating man. We each showed the other photos of our children, and really, it was a very talkative evening, nothing more. Actually, we talked for four hours — and I'll be honest, there was a gleam in his eye when he walked me to my room. (His was on the same floor.) We said good-bye!

I had trouble with the key in my lock, and he came back ever so promptly to help me. He got the door open and in the embarrassment of explaining that I really meant good-bye, I didn't get my key back. He must have put it in his pocket — but I didn't even realize it was gone until the next morning.

I never saw him again. He said he was checking out early. But somewhere a man who made me fleetingly wish I wasn't S. P. I. is walking around with my key in his pocket (unless his wife has found it, which would be worse).

In a kidding way I told my very wonderful husband about the dinner, but not The Key, and I know I should have because he trusts me. But if he heard about it now — well even HIS trust has its limits.

I worry. Will this man (who knows where I live) use The Key to get back into my life? Will my husband find out, and can I make him believe a man who opens a woman's hotel door for her doesn't always walk in? What'll I DO, Helen? — Mrs. X.

Dear Mrs. X (Will innocence prevail? Will Mrs. X Loose All? Will...)

You forgot the one question that probably rates a "yes." Did this man (who is no more anxious to risk his marriage than you are) mail the key back to the hotel the moment he found it — and in a noreturnad dressed envelope? You darn betcha he did, so stop worrying. But never forget about your mild flirtation. Good little girls need a few memories like these to make them realize it's choice, not lack of opportunity, that keeps them "S. P. I." — H.

Dear Helen: What about wearing hats at luncheons? Emily says YES, but the new hairstyles shout NO. Which? — Hatless Westerner

Dear Hatless: Let's put it this way: If you don't wear a hat to a luncheon, out West, you'll be in style with at least 50 percent of the guests (and the other 50 percent). Well, perhaps they save $6.50 on a new hairdo! — H.

Dear Helen: Several years ago you and other readers pool-pooled the repairman who said all housewives were on the make and watch out if they offer you coffee. I went along with that until I got a job repairing TV sets. This dame called me back the second time and when I got there she was in "something comfortable," and she had champagne and fancy crackers on the table. What do you say to that, Helen? — T-Veto

Dear T: Maybe she wanted to be sure you got good reception. — H.

Nicklaus Is Trying for 2nd Masters

By RON SPEER

Associated Press Sports Writer
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the Ohio golfer who will be trying for an unprecedented second straight Masters victory, scoffs at claims he has the golfing plum all wrapped up.

"That's a lot of baloney," Nicklaus said before a final round for Thursday's start of the 77th annual tournament.

"A lot of golfers can win this thing," the 26-year-old Golden Bear said. "A couple of bad breaks can ruin you. Most of the time this tournament is lost, not won."

"The player who doesn't make any mistakes is the player who wins."

He predicted a score of 278 would be good enough to take the title.

That is seven strokes above the record set last year by Nicklaus, who fired rounds of 67-71-64-69 in one of golf's most dazzling exhibitions.

Nicklaus conceded the hilly 6,999-yard course is long enough to eliminate some of the 104-man field.

He doesn't think, however, that Doug Sanders, hottest player on the 1966 tour with three 1965 triumphs, is out of the running because he isn't a long driver.

"Doug hits the ball as far as Gary Player and Player's record speaks for itself," said Nicklaus. "If you look in the records you'll find most of the winners of the Masters weren't long hitters."

Nicklaus signaled out Arnold Palmer and Player — the other members of the Big Three who have won every Masters crown since 1960 — as his leading rivals. As an afterthought, he tossed in the names of Sanders and Bruce Devlin, the lanky Australian who collected $67,000 on the tour last year without winning a tournament.

Player, the 1961 titlist, said he is "hitting the ball reasonably well although I haven't scored real good."

Palmer, who won the Masters in 1958, 1960, 1962 and 1964 has been working on his approaches and putting.

"My short game is as bad as it has been for quite a while," he said.

Little chance is given an outsider to crack the Big Three's domination of the Masters, but Ken Venturi said it would come as no surprise to him if a dark horse won.

Youth Makes Very Fine Bowling Start

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A tall blond teen-ager from Williamsport, Pa., made his debut in the American Bowling Congress Tournament with a first place in regular all-events play.

"I don't believe it," 19-year-old John Wilcox said Tuesday, as he reflected on his nine-game total of 2,004.

The 6-foot, 163-pound left-hander started Monday with a 673 series in the team event. He came back Tuesday with 613 in the doubles and 718 in the singles.

His all-events total, which averaged more than 222 per game, included 63 strikes.

Bob Menendez of St. Louis, who had held the regular all-events lead for a week with 1,961, dropped to second place.

Wilcox nearly knocked off the singles lead too, but left the 3 and the 10 pins standing on a crucial pitch in the final frame of the singles.

His 250-219-249 singles effort was good for third place, however.

Ernie Koche of Chicago continues to dominate that division with 728.

Wilcox's total is the third highest all-events score rolled by a southpaw in ABC history. Fred Foremsky of El Paso, Tex., set the record for left-handers when he amassed 2,024 in the classic division in 1964.

Tom Hathaway of Los Angeles took only 1,922 pins to win last year's all-events crown.

There were no threats to the leaders of the team division or the doubles.

Giants Rough Up Dodgers' Holdout Twins

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale bowled over the baseball oddsmakers without throwing a pitch. All they have to do now is catch up with the National League hitters.

San Francisco sabotaged the Los Angeles ace's spring debut Tuesday, roughing them up in a 7-2 exhibition victory over the Dodgers Koufax and Drysdale were clipped for six runs and 10 hits in their first competitive appearances since they ended a 32-day salary holdout last Saturday.

The Giants salvaged the last game of a three-game spring series with the world champions while Las Vegas gambling experts were installing the Dodgers as 2½-1 favorites to repeat in the National League. San Francisco had been the best bet, at the same odds, before the Dodgers finally signed their pitching mainstays for a reported total of $245,000.

In Tuesday's other exhibition play, the Chicago White Sox edged Cincinnati 2-1 on Gene Freese's run-scoring single in the 17th inning, the New York Mets blasted Detroit 11-2, Baltimore outslugged Boston 11-6, Atlanta nipped Pittsburgh 5-4, Cleveland trimmed the Chicago Cubs 8-5 and Philadelphia blanked St. Louis 2-0.

Jim Hart drove in four runs with two homers, leading the Giants past the Dodgers at Mesa, Ariz. Drysdale, who pitched the first three innings, yielded four runs on five hits, including a three-run homer by Hart. Tom Haller homered off Koufax, who worked the middle three innings and gave up two runs on five hits.

Hart hit his second homer off Johnny Podres in the seventh. Willie Mays, who missed the two weekend games between the clubs because of a sore wrist, played seven innings and had a single in four at-bats.

The White Sox, who lead the exhibition standings with a 19-6 mark, rallied with two out in the 17th against Cincinnati, breaking the 1-1 tie on a walk to pitcher Bruce Howard. Tom McCraw's single and Freese's hit. The game consumed 4 hours, 21 minutes and 41 players saw action.

Home runs by Dick Stuart, Ken Boyer, Ron Hunt and Jerry Grote led the Mets' barrage against the Tigers. Curt Blefary hit two homers, for a total of four in two days, as the Orioles pounded the Red Sox.

Dennis Menke doubled in the seventh inning and scored the deciding run for the Braves on Woody Woodward's single. Tony Martinz sparked the Indians' 12-hit attack against the Cubs with three singles. Ray Herbert and rookie Grant Jackson scattered nine hits in the Phillies victory over St. Louis.

Clay Told to Pay $26,250 or Go to Jail

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cassius Clay, who boasts of the money he makes as heavyweight boxing champion, has until 5:30 p.m. Thursday to come up with $26,250 or go to jail for 30 days.

He was found in contempt of court Tuesday after he failed to show up in court and make at least an installment on the alimony he owes his pretty ex-wife, Sonji.

At first Clay's lawyer had told Sonji's attorneys he had two checks for part of the money Clay owes—$22,500 in fees and $2,500 for two months' alimony.

One of the checks was written on Islam Temple 2 in Chicago.

But one of Sonji's lawyers turned the offer down because "Cassius already bounced one on her for $1,250."

Two deputy sheriffs were already on the road with an arrest warrant when Clay's lawyer worked out a compromise with the judge and Sonji's lawyers.

The compromise gives Clay until 5:30 p.m. Thursday to pay $25,250—$22,500 for her lawyers, $1,000 for the expense of two hearings that Clay did not show up, $2,500 to cover the first two months alimony and $250 for Sonji's expenses in getting to the hearing.

Clay's lawyer said Clay would get the money.

Major Loops Busy With Cutdowns

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
It was a busy cutting day as major league clubs continued to trim their rosters to reach the 28-man limit by the opening of the baseball season, and several veterans felt the axe.

The Cincinnati Reds delivered the hardest blow against veterans Tuesday by sending three of them to the minors and asking waivers on another — pitcher Roger Craig.

Craig was placed on waivers for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release.

The 35-year-old right-hander previously played with the Los Angeles Dodgers and the New York Mets. He was 1-4 with the Reds last season.

Sent to Buffalo on a 24-hour recall basis were pitchers Jim Duffalo and Don Zanni. Outfielder Charley James, a member of the 1964 world champion St. Louis Cardinals, was sent to the Reds' minor league camp for reassignment.

Southpaw relief pitcher Bill Pleis, a five-year Minnesota veteran, was sent to the Twins' minor league training base for reassignment as was infielder Frank Quilici, who joined the Twins in mid-season last year and wound up as their regular second baseman in the World Series.

Another veteran sent down was New York Met catcher Chris Cannizzaro, like Craig and original member of the team. He was traded to Richmond for outfielder Don Dillard and an undisclosed amount of cash. Dillard then was sent to the Mets' minor league camp for reassignment.

St. Louis to Get Hockey Franchise

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidney Salomon Jr. and his son, Sidney II, head the syndicate that was awarded the St. Louis franchise in the National Hockey League expansion.

A unanimous vote Monday by the league's board of governors chose their group over a rival syndicate, headed by Carl Berr.

Five other cities — Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Minneapolis-St. Paul, San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles — were given franchises two months ago, and a sixth was reserved for St. Louis.

The new six will begin play in 1967, doubling the number of NHL teams. Montreal, Toronto, Chicago, Detroit, New York and Boston have made up the league since 1942.

Salomon and son holds the largest block of stock among the Blues' nine owners. The syndicate will pay $2 million for the franchise and the rights to 20 players they will draft from the 8½ existing clubs. And when the group got the franchise, it put into effect its purchase of the St. Louis Arena for $4 million.

Magnolia track teams took first place in both divisions of a triangular track and field meet here yesterday, racing past Hope and Prescott who pulled up second and third in that order.

In the Senior High Division Magnolia compiled a very convincing total of 12½ points. No one else was close as the Bobcats could only mount 66 and Prescott 53½.

There was another school record broken in the 180-yard high hurdles as Buzz Andrews did it again with a time of 22.6 seconds.

In the Junior High Division Magnolia made an equally impressive showing, finishing with 102 points compared to 62 for Hope and 50 for Prescott.

Jerry Don McWilliams smashed the Hope Jr. High School record in the 120 yard low hurdles with a winning time to 16.2 seconds.

Equiruzzo Leads SS to Victory

STAMPS, Ark. (AP) — Equiruzzo won the 100 and 220 yard dashes Tuesday night in the Southern State College track meet at the Stamps outdoor track meet.
The Magnolians led on points, 102 to 62 for Hope and 50 for Prescott.
Stamps won the high school division.

Defense Looks Better, Says Coach Broyles

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Frank Broyles led his University of Arkansas Razorbacks through their second day of spring practice Tuesday, and said the defensive unit looked "a little better."

For the second straight day, the offense beat the defense in the 30-minute scrimmage. Ronnie South tossed a nine-yard pass to Bobby Burnett for the cow's touchdown.

The 2½-hour workout and scrimmage weren't as good as Monday, Broyles said, but he said the players were probably sore.

Clayton Smithy joined Eddie Woodlee and All-America tackle Lloyd Phillips on the disabled list. The injuries are not serious, Broyles said.

The Razorbacks take a 10-day Easter vacation after Thursday's practice.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Joint Pains May Result From Heart Case Drug

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Since replying to a question about the side effects, especially joint pains, in persons taking Pronestyl over a period of several months, I have come upon some additional information. Pronestyl, the trade name for procainamide hydrochloride, is a prescription drug given for rapid heart action and other disturbances of cardiac rhythm.

Like most modern drugs, this one is usually well-tolerated but in hypersensitive persons it could be dangerous. It may cause nausea, diarrhea, weakness, dizziness, mental symptoms, extreme itching, and severe joint pains. Furthermore, anyone who is taking it should have a white blood cell count at least once a month.

Q—What is the cause of postnasal drip? How can it be stopped?

A—Either an allergy or a chronic low-grade infection in the nasal sinuses will cause this condition. It is important to find out which cause applies in your case because the antihistamines will relieve an allergy but not an infection.

For the latter, the problem is more complex. There are many nasal decongestants that give temporary relief but with continued use they lose their effect and many even aggravate the condition.

The newer decongestants include Afrin, Otrivin and Privine. The safest plan, however, is to use such agents sparingly, if at all.

Q—I work in a dry cleaning plant and use perchlorethylene as a degreaser. My friends say this is a dangerous chemical. What do you think?

A—Any cleaning establishment where this chemical is used should be equipped with a ventilating system that carries the fumes outside the building. Inside-the-building tests should be made from time to time to insure that the maximum allowable concentration of this chemical (100 parts per million or 670 milligrams per cubic meter) is not exceeded.

Deaths due to exposure to this chemical are rare but it may cause drowsiness or waterlogging of the tissues. Persons with liver damage should avoid even minimal exposure.

Q—I have osteoporosis. A friend says if I break a bone it will not knit. Will regular exercise such as walking help? Is there any medicine for this condition?

A—In osteoporosis your bones lose calcium faster than it is replaced. This makes them easier to break and once broken they are slow to heal but with proper treatment healing does take place. Exercise definitely helps to maintain the strength of your bones. Women who are in the menopausal period or past it are benefited by taking female hormones. Fluorides and calcium salts are also helpful some work on about 3.7 miles of Arkansas 115 extending south west from near the Lawrence County line.

UNION — Reconstruction of about 4.6 miles of U.S. 82 south-east from about 5 miles south-east of the El Dorado city limits.

YELL — Construction of a 128-foot steel bridge and approaches at Dutch Creek on Arkansas 80 southwest of Danville.

Poor Little Rich Girl Is Happy Now

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Ring twice. At the signal, Gloria Vanderbilt swings open the unmarked door to her very private world away from home.

Once she was called the poor little rich girl. Don't paint her blue now, though. Paint her radiant in a fire engine red Courreges suit piped in white leather, very stylish. After all, she is on the world's best-dressed list.

Here is the studio where she paints, yellow with sunshine; red with whimsical canvases; vivid with plump needlepoint pillows, charming with old dolls slumped spiritlessly over the fireplace mantel and small sofa; amusing with a silent, full-sized male window manikin sitting cross-legged on a wooden chair; friendly and personal with family photographs, books, burn ointment, paper clips, coffee cups.

Two years ago she married handsome Californian Wyatt Cooper, who writes.

Although she is the great-granddaughter of railroad builder Cornelius Vanderbilt, an heiress at 21, and very social, she skips the chic luncheon spots and often the party circuit.

When interviewed, she was out of her painting uniform — "a sweater dress I can move around in and a pair of sneakers" — because she had promised her framer not to finish any more paintings before her current one-man show.

"Do you know why there are not many really great women painters?" Gloria does not wait for a reply.

"It's hard to combine the kind of discipline you need with a family. It takes an enormous kind of control, a kind of hardness — not hardness exactly — maybe the word is purposefulness, or determination."

"I'm fortunate. I have a husband who understands. He's a marvelous sounding board."

Not in her dress — which is always vividly colorful — and not in personality — which is as bubbly as champagne — is there any sign that this Gloria Vanderbilt was once the sad little child in the middle of a custody dispute between an aunt and her mother. The aunt won.

There also have been marital phases in her life. At 17 she wed theatrical agent Pat di Cicco. Gloria then married white-haired symphony conductor Leopold Stokowski. From this 16-year May-December union are two sons, Chris, now 14, and Stan, now 15. The Stokowskis were divorced in 1955.

There was a brief marriage to stage and screen director Sidney Lumet. Then Wyatt. Last year the couple had son Carter.

The door bell signals twice again. Gloria admits the photographer, tugs her suit jacket smooth over her trim figure, wets her lips and smiles, dimpling her cheeks. Her brown, slightly teased hair falls softly around a perfect oval face with puckish mouth and brown eyes dancing with enthusiasm for art love, children, life.

Paint her happy.

Life in Arkansas

A Little Rock girl has learned that an early age.

Witness this conversation: "Momma, that looks like Mrs. Blank, who taught us that song," said the fourth grader. "There, in that car?" asked the mother. "I didn't think she was that old."

"No, that isn't her. She isn't that old," came the reply.

"Well, how old is she—young, middle aged?"

"No, she's just like you — regular."

Life in Independence County must be peaceable.

In the 146-year history of the county, there have been 34 sheriffs and only one was killed in the line of duty. That was Sheriff Joe Morgan, shot in 1904 in an arrest attempt.

Maybe it was the influence of income tax life, but for whatever reason an elderly woman strode into a Batesville store the other day and asked to see manager Adrian Fikes.

"I owe you a dollar," she said, handing over a greenback. Fikes looked puzzled, since the store does cash and carry business.

"Twenty years ago I made a purchase in this store," she said. "After leaving I discovered the girl had given me $1 too much in change."

She said she had moved to Texas shortly afterwards, but often thought of the extra dollar.

Not content with campus life, he first showed up, in decal form, on the nose of helicopters in Viet Nam.

Now Joe has hooked himself onto the uniforms of the helicopter pilots, in the form of a cloth patch.

He worked through Lt. Jerry Watkins of Jonesboro in endeavoring himself to a company of men of the 128th Aviation Battalion.

The company's nickname is "The Tomahawks."

The almost indescribable wail of a coyote can be interpreted into nearly anything, depending on the frame of mind of the listener. To Weldon residents, it sounded like a woman's scream.

Farmer-trapper Ollie Ritcheson set out to put a stop to the midnight gibberish.

He trapped female coyote. It was obvious that here was the culprit, displayed in plain daylight.

But that night the wailing screams resumed. Unperturbed, Rich Ritcheson set out more traps and bagged another female coyote. The wailings stopped.

One of the animals was too vicious and had to be destroyed. Ritcheson kept the other and said he would try to tame it.

William Dawes was Paul Revere's companion on his famous midnight ride.

Townsend Going Back to Britain

LONDON (AP) — Peter

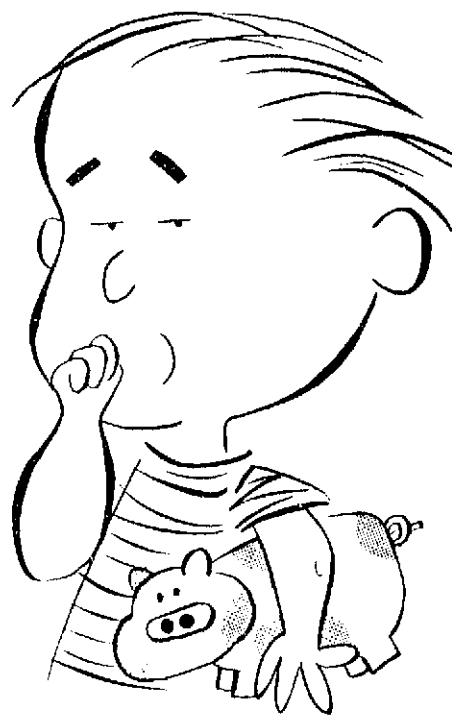

Townsend, the handsome former airman who wooed but lost Princess Margaret, plans to return to Britain to live with his Belgian wife and three children.

Townsend, 51, will work for a London public relations firm beginning April 13.

Not since 1953 when he met Margaret while an officer in the Royal Air Force has he lived in London. Because Townsend was a divorcee, Buckingham Palace discouraged his romance with Margaret.

She announced that she would not marry Townsend in 1955. Five years later she was wed to Anthony Armstrong-Jones, now the Earl of Snowdon.

After the romance had ended, Townsend told a reporter: "I will never return to Britain. Never."

Independent Phone Firm Progressive

By ED SHEARER Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An independent telephone company in Arkansas has grown rapidly since its incorporation in 1954, and the firm has budgeted $1.5 million for construction this year.

Allied Telephone Co., with headquarters at Little Rock, has more than doubled its total revenue, net income, investments and telephones in service since 1961.

Allied placed in operation less than three weeks ago a Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) system at its district office in Glenwood near Hot Springs.

Further expansion in 1966 includes new offices at Greenbrier and Berryville.

H. R. Wilbourn president and board chairman of Allied, said the company hopes to have its Greenbrier exchange in operation in August.

The company purchased the Berryville Telephone Co. last April and plans include the installation of new equipment and a new office building at Berryville.

The hydroelectric potential of Africa exceeds that of any other continent, even if estimates of future developments are taken conservatively. One estimate puts the potential water power at 190 million horse power, that is three times the estimated potential of Europe. Another estimate credits Africa with 2.5ths of the world's potential or four times that of North America; one-quarter of this is stated to be in the Congo basin alone. As yet, only 0.1 per cent is used.

Oswald asks: "What do you think of the practice of a defender telling his partner how many cards he holds in a suit by means of an echo with an even number and playing straight up with an odd number?"

Jim: "It is mighty good policy provided you don't abuse it and let it interfere with your normal signals of high for strength or come-on and low for weakness or try something else."

Oswald: "Also, there is no point in giving a count when it can only help declarer. But, when you aren't going to help declarer and are going to help your partner it behooves you to help him by giving him this count."

Jim: "Here is an excellent example from Dorothy Hayden's book, 'Bid Better, Play Better'. If West happens to lead the queen of diamonds South has no play for three no trump but West makes the normal opening lead of his fourth best heart. South wins and leads a spade. West plays the deuce, dummy the ten and East ducks. Another spade honor is led from dummy and if East has confidence in his partner he steps right up with his ace. He knows that his partner would have shown a doubleton by playing the higher of his two spades on the first lead of the suit."

Oswald: "This is an ideal situation to give your partner a count. West could not possibly help declarer by telling him how many spades he held but he had to be able to tell his partner."

Jim: "Note that once East takes the second spade, South is held to eight tricks. Should he let dummy collect two spade tricks South would make his contract."

This Year's Oscar Race

Lt. Governor Regarded as Heir of Job

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — In many states the lieutenant governor is regarded as the heir apparent to the governor's chair.

In the 40 years Arkansas has had a lieutenant governor, he has been the presiding officer of the Senate and very little else.

Twenty of those 40 years one man, Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon, held the office. Gordon's retirement from politics last week creates the first open race for lieutenant governor in two decades.

Three candidates, Democrats Joe Basore of Cherokee Village and Ralph Johnson of Hardy, and Republican Maurice (Footsie) Britt of Little Rock had filed for the office even before Gordon retired.

Other candidates are expected.

I hope they elect a good man," Gordon said when he announced his retirement. "Something might happen to the governor."

Only one lieutenant governor has stepped up—the first, Lt. Gov. Harvey Parnell became governor in 1928 when Gov. John E. Martin resigned to become a federal judge.

Parnell later was elected to two terms in his own right.

Between Parnell and Gordon, five men held the office. None ever was elected to a higher office.

Lee Cazorl served three terms. He succeeded Parnell in 1929. Lawrence Wilson was elected for one term in 1930, then Cazorl came back in 1932 and won the first of two consecutive terms.

Bob Bailey was lieutenant governor for three terms (1937-43) and J. S. Shiver for two terms (1943-47) before Gordon, a war hero, was elected in 1948.

Gordon served under Govs. Ben Laney, Sid McMath, Francis Cherry and Orval Faubus.

He said he was acting governor many times but the most important work he performed was signing a few paroles and commutations and hundreds of Arkansas Traveler certificates.

Basore and Britt have talked about playing a more active role if they are elected. Gordon said he does not see how this will be possible unless the law is changed to give the lieutenant governor more responsibility.

He said the state might benefit if the job were made full-time. It now pays $2,500 a year, which is fair compensation for working the 60 days of each biennial regular session of the legislature and a few, short special sessions.

Gordon said he did not think the office should be turned into a training ground for governors.

"This job is more legislative than executive the way it's set up," he said.

Early in his career Gordon was frequently mentioned in speculation about other offices. In recent years he always moved rapidly to head off such speculation.

Gordon practices law with his brother, Ed Gordon, and Felter Rowell in Morrilton.

All spiders can produce silken strands of one kind or another, but only a few spin webs.

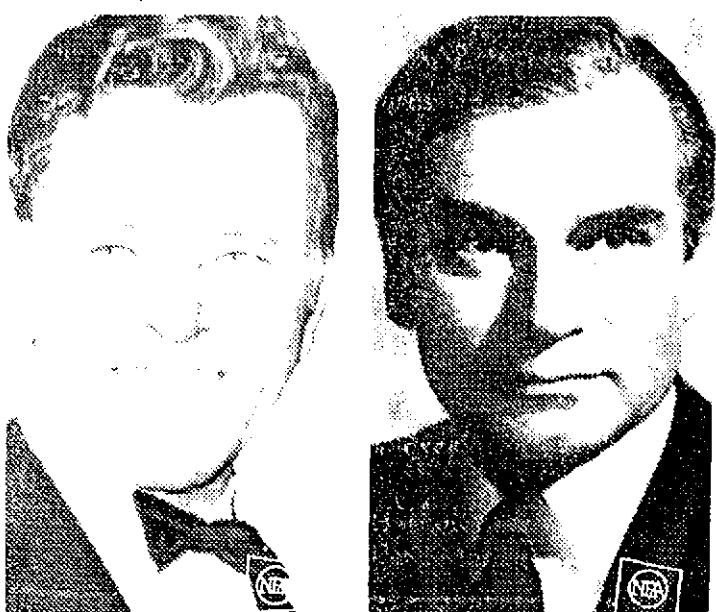

BROADCASTER — Ronald Ramsey's "Radio Stateside" messages to U.S. troops in South Viet Nam are being broadcast by the Communist radio in Hanoi and investigated by the U.S. Justice Department in Washington. Ramsey, left, talking with newsmen in Los Angeles, says his taped messages reach North Viet Nam via Canada, England and Czechoslovakia.

Free Range Slow Horses Footsore Russian

The call of the Bobwhite is an entrancing sound and this writer has had it around his house since last summer when he brought 13 6-week-old chicks and installed them in a big wire cage.

The youngsters grew up and lately I have been reminding myself that the original purpose of this project was not to run a quail prison farm but merely introduce them to my neighborhood, get 'em to recognize this as their home ground — and then turn 'em loose. Besides, quail won't breed in captivity.

But the decision was thrust upon me unexpectedly. Every once in a while a quail would escape through some tunnel a rat had dug to get at the starter mash, and the cage was down to 10 birds. Then two more got out, defied my efforts to catch them, and here I was, feeding eight birds in and two lurking outside the wire.

So yesterday afternoon I propped the door open. Now the 10 are reunited — outside.

Would they stick around, as I had hoped? Last night I checked the roost — it was deserted, and the cage with the open door was empty. That was my low moment.

But business picked up this morning. The quail were back for food and water — and the door stays open from here on.

Hot Springs wound up its horse races last Saturday and I asked the office girls if any of them attended the Arkansas Derby. One admitted she did. "How did you come out?" I asked, with a touch of the needle — knowing women's power of intuition.

"Well," she replied, "I can tell you this: I'll be wearing tennis shoes to church on Easter."

Demonstration Rocks Saigon But Ky Controls

By THOMAS A. REEDY
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — New antigovernment demonstrations rocked Saigon and Hue today, but Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime appeared to be making some headway toward ending the grave political crisis that has threatened to tumble it.

Ky called the situation still serious but said he is confident the difficulties with dissident military men in Da Nang can be resolved peacefully.

A few hours after his optimistic statement, 1,000 demonstrators surged through the center of Saigon tonight, wrecking a Vietnamese newspaper office on the way. The youths moved out from a student headquarters at whistle commands from a group of young Buddhist monks.

The mob gathered strength as it surged downtown and attacked the ground floor office of the paper Song, smashing machinery and furniture with knives and sticks. The demonstrations came on the heels of a report of a pact between Saigon authorities and militant student leaders to ease tensions in the capital.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Ten thousand Viet Nam demonstrators peacefully against Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government in Hue today, but Ky said he is confident his U. S. backed military government can find a peaceful solution to the crisis threatening it.

In the war against the Viet Cong, the U. S. St. Infantry and Australian troops announced a big ground operation 30 miles east of Saigon had driven the Viet Cong out of 28 base camps in the jungle and swamps. Supported by New Zealand artillery fire, the allied push in the past week has accounted for 23 Viet Cong killed and the capture of 15 Communists, 10 weapons, two tractor-trailers and 867 tons of rice, a spokesman said.

U. S. Marines slogged through another five miles of mangrove swamp southeast of Saigon in Operation Jackstay, bringing them within 13 miles of the capital. Their goal is to free the shipping route to Saigon from Viet Cong harassment.

Despite the new demonstration in the north of the country, Ky said his emergency talks Da Nang Tuesday convinced him the problem could be resolved without force.

In a statement published by the official Viet Nam press, he said: "Consequently, on the one hand I have given instructions that everything possible be done to check extremist actions on both sides so that nothing regrettable happens while a political solution is being sought."

"On the other hand, I have called a meeting of the (ruling) Military Directory and the Cabinet and I am positive we will find a solution very soon."

By KELLY SMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — With 10 hectic days left to file income tax returns, home life at the Sheldon S. Cohens is "getting wilder all the time."

Cohen is the internal revenue commissioner.

"Pressure starts about the first of the year," says Faye Cohen, who has striking brown eyes and red hair. "It gradually builds up until April. To spend time together, we run our home like an office. It sounds terrible, but if we didn't we'd be squelched."

The deadline is April 15 — Friday of next week.

Fortunately, Cohen filed their 1940 form March 18 — they owed $71.05. There would be little time for it now. Phones ring frequently in the three-bedroom brick house with black shutters. Mail is piled high, many tax payers from Hawaii to Maine want personal consultations.

Truck Stop Near Fouke Is Robbed

FOUKE, Ark. (AP) — Four men, wearing stockings over their face, escaped today following a pre-dawn robbery of a truck stop at Fouke, about 13 miles south of Texarkana.

Miller County Deputy F. F. O'Neal said the men escaped with between $400 and $500 in checks and currency after tying up a service station attendant and cafe waitress.

O'Neal said the men were armed with a shotgun and two pistols.

"They walked in, made us get on the floor facing the wall and told us not to move and we wouldn't get hurt," said Jimmy Batte, the service station attendant.

"They tied us up but I got loose about three minutes after they left," he said. "They had jerked the phone off the wall and gone out the back door."

O'Neal said no one was harmed. The four men were described as heavy set and in their late 20s or early 30s.

State Lowers School Lunch Payments

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state has reduced the reimbursement rate which it pays to school districts for lunches served to school children, the State Education Department said Tuesday.

The reduction was one cent, so the department will pay 5 cents for each lunch served and 3 cents for each lunch without milk.

The department said the reduction was caused by increased participation in the school lunch program under Title I of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The Education Department said there was a very heavy increase in the number of lunches served during February and January.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A burglar with a sweet tooth broke into the cafeteria of Lincoln Junior High School recently and took 300 peanut butter cookies. Flood Forces Many to Leave Homes

EMERSON, Man. (AP) — About 2,800 persons were leaving their homes in three southern Manitoba towns today as flood waters rolled north in the Red River Valley.

Full-scale evacuation was ordered for Morris, St. Jean Baptiste and Emerson.

Manitoba Premier Duff Roblin ordered dikes in all towns and municipalities along the river raised in anticipation of flood crests higher than predicted.

He said unusually slow melting of snow and river ice will result in a delayed crest simultaneous with the runoff from some tributaries.

"It now appears the peak at Winnipeg may possibly go a little higher than our predicted 29 feet — to something in the order of 29 1/2 to 30 feet," he said.

Flood control authorities decided to clear out Emerson, Morris and St. Jean Baptiste rather than risk leaving the populace behind emergency dikes that may be holding back eight feet of water within a week.

Cold weather helped to slow the runoff as the Red's crests moved out of Minnesota toward Canadian cities.

Printers to Take Wage Increase

BOSTON (AP)—The two unions that forced five Boston newspapers to suspend publication a month ago have voted to accept $16.30 in wage increases over a three-year contract to end their strike.

The printers voted upon it Tuesday and the mailers 158-31 to ratify the agreement negotiated with the publishers.

The vote paves the way for an early resumption of publication but Bostonians will have to wait a little while longer for their newspapers.

Nine other newspaper craft unions whose members were idled by the printers' and mailers' strike, must now meet to decide whether to accept the same offer, made informally to them by the publishers' representative, Eugene P. Barnes.

Complicating the picture is the fact that five of the unions earlier in the year had accepted an agreement for a two-year contract and an increase that provided no cash, but gains in health-welfare and pension benefits.

The printers and mailers accepted an offer which will give them a $4.10 boost retroactively for the year 1965; $4.00 weekly from Jan. 1, 1966; a $2 weekly increase on the resumption of publication; and raises of $3 each on Jan. 1, 1967 and July 1, 1967.

Guards Shield Troopers at Negro College

By BILL CRIDER
LORMAN, Miss. (AP) — A shield of National Guardsmen and state troopers defended the gates today at Alcorn A&M College where tear gas clouds choked 2,000 angry demonstrators into retreat during the night.

Student protests seeking to depose Alcorn President J. D. Boyd boiled into violence again Tuesday night when patrolmen tried to clear a highway leading onto the campus.

Carbines at the ready, the patrolmen stemmed into the mass of Negroes when a demonstrator shoved a trooper and reached for his rifle.

The two men struggled. Another patrolman slugged the Negro on the head with a billy-club. The crowd roared.

Leaping onto the hood of a parked car, a Negro youth hurled a soft drink bottle into the face of the officer who wielded the nightstick.

Troopers pushed quickly into the crowd, lobbing volleys of tear gas grenades. Gasping, screaming, cursing, the crowd scattered into the darkness.

There were no serious injuries, and no arrests.

The troopers moved to disperse the throng after about 175 National Guardsmen arrived on campus with bayonets fixed to serve as reinforcements.

Three companies of Guardsmen were marched to the north gate after patrolmen ordered back 1,500 Negroes who sought to stage a protest march on the campus.

Some Areas in U.S. Get Light Snow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cool air, with light snow and flurries in some areas, covered most of the eastern half of the nation today. The Weather Bureau said not much change in the unseasonably chilly spring weather was indicated for the next several days.

Much of the cool weather was attributed to a large low pressure system northeast of the Great Lakes, fanning the cold air southward to the Atlantic and Gulf regions.

Snow flurries continued across the Midwest to the Appalachians. Snow amounts have been light in most areas, ranging from a trace to one inch, with most melting during the day.

In the West, the weather pattern was sunny, mild days and clear cool nights, except for cloudiness and fog along the immediate Pacific Coast.

Below-normal temperatures were forecast until next Monday — including Easter Sunday — in most of the nation, with above normal marks in much of the Southwest. Precipitation was expected to be generally light except for heavy amounts in parts of the Southeast.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 25 at Dickinson, N.D., to 69 at Key West, Fla.

Salary Hikes by Sturgis to Be Reviewed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Chairman Wayne Hampton of Stuttgart said today the state Highway Commission will take a look "in the immediate future" at a series of salary raises approved by Mack Sturgis before he resigned as highway director April 1.

"The commission has and will give reasonable raises when they are warranted," Hampton said in a statement telephoned to the press.

"But there is no justification for $300-a-month raises," he said. "We supported and implied to the people and to the legislature that the increase in motor fuel taxes and licenses was to build roads and was not to be used for $300-a-month salary increases."

The salary increases were not announced. A newsman discovered they had been granted after he received a letter from a lower echelon Highway Department employee.

The $300-a-month raise went to Y. W. Wheelchel, assistant director. Wheelchel, last listed in the salary scale as an administrative assistant said his salary increases were not raised.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Mack Sturgis authorized an undetermined number of Highway Department pay raises just before he left office April 1, it was reported Tuesday.

The wage increase took effect April 1 by administrative order authorized by Sturgis, said Y. W. Wheelchel, administrative assistant.

He said Act 18 of the second special session of the 1965 legislature provided for administrative authorized pay raises and other increases to implement the federal regional development program.

There has been no official report of the wage increase, but Wheelchel speculated that the raises might total $500,000 a year.

Sturgis resigned because he said a heart attack had limited his activities.

Wheelchel said some grades of employees at the department had not received pay raises in several years. He said some persons were paid on an hourly basis and others by salary.
